Filipino Poll Unusually Quiet

Only One Shooting Reported So Far

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines chose between Carlos P. Garcia and Diosdado Macapagal today in the most peaceful presidential election of the islands' 15-year history as a republic.

By the time the polls closed only one confirmed shooting and two unconfirmed incidents of serious violence had been reported, an unusually low figure for this young Asian republic which counted at least 22 political slayings during the campaign.

There were reports of maulings, vote-buying and intimidation, but these are usual for Philippine elections.

The outcome of the election probably will not be known before late Wednesday when returns come in from Garcia's stronghold in the central and southern islands.

Garcia, 65, sought re-election to a second four-year term on the ruling Nacionalista party ticket, campaigning on a "Filipino first" policy of economic nationalism. Macapagal, 51, vice president in Garcia's administration, headed the ticket of the opposition Liberal party, which accused the Garcia administration of graft and corruption.

Both predicted victory by wide margins. Both pledged to continue the Philippines' close relations with the United States.

Three candidates sought the vice presidency. The elections also were to fill eight of the 24 Senate seats and the 104 seats in the House of Representatives. For the past four years the Nacionalistas have controlled both houses by a large majority. A record turnout of about 7 million of the 8,476,731 registered voters was predicted.

Death Car's Driver Still Remembers

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP)—Nineteen years ago Robbie Wilson, 6, got bored with his sister Edna's fourth birthday party and ran out to play in the street.

The driver of a passing automobile swerved but hit the child and killed him. The driver carried the boy into the house and collapsed.

A doctor treated Robbie's parents and the motorist for shock. Then the driver left. He didn't tell the Wilsons his name. They knew only that he lived in England, in the city of Sunderland.

A year later, on Edna's next birthday, a huge parcel arrived for the girl. It was a rocking horse. There was no sender's name. The only clue was the postmark: Sunderland.

On her sixth birthday, Edna got a child's cycle. Again it came from Sunderland.

Each year since Edna has received an expensive birthday present from Sunderland. As she grew older the gifts became more sophisticated — a beauty set, French perfume, cosmetics.

When she became old enough to drive, money arrived to pay for driving lessons.

A beautiful evening gown was her 21st birthday gift.

A few weeks ago Edna married and went to live in an Edinburgh suburb. The family has no idea how the man in Sunderland found out, but he sent a wedding present.

The Wilson family still doesn't know who he is.

State Billboard Ban Effective Wednesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's interstate highway billboard ban becomes effective Wednesday.

After that date all illegal signs along the state's interstate highway system must be removed. If property owners fail to comply within 30 days, the signs will be removed by the state and bills sent to the property owners.

Two Injured In Collision

Wooster Man, Wife Listed 'Satisfactory'

A Wooster man and his wife were seriously injured in an auto-truck accident seven miles west of here on Route 22 at 10:45 p. m. yesterday.

In "satisfactory" condition at University Hospital, Columbus, are James H. Faught, 35, and his wife, Erma, 29.

Deputy Sheriff Neal Childress said the Faughts and their four-year-old son, David, were taken to Berger Hospital where they received emergency treatment. Mr. and Mrs. Faught were later transferred to University Hospital. The young son was released in the custody of Deputy Childress.

The Faught vehicle skidded under the trailer of a tractor unit driven by James S. Owens, 21, Coraopolis, O., who attempted to pass another truck. Owens was not injured in the accident.

OWENS told the deputy he was traveling west on Route 22 and attempted to pass a truck in front of him. After he pulled into the eastbound lane of traffic the vehicle he was attempting to pass speeded up.

Owens said he saw the Faught auto approaching. He said he made an unsuccessful attempt to steer his truck into the westbound lane of traffic.

The Faught auto crashed into the rear of the trailer and skidded off the highway into a ditch. The Faughts were pinned in the wreckage for approximately 20 minutes.

James Faught received severe head injuries and possible internal injuries. Mrs. Faught suffered facial lacerations and a possible fractured left leg.

Owens was cited to appear in Circleville Municipal Court to face charges of reckless operation.

Relatives called for the Faught's four-year-old son early today. The youngster spent the night at Deputy Childress' home.

Springfield Bank Robbed

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A branch of the Lagonda National Bank in Springfield was robbed a few minutes before noon today. The single gunman who staged the holdup escaped.

First reports were that the robber may have made away with as much as $50,000 in cash.

He reportedly fled in a 1961 gray Chevrolet convertible with Nebraska license plates.

Ironically, this was the second bank robbery in the area in two days—the first being in Dayton yesterday, the same day 150 law enforcement officers attended an FBI-sponsored seminar there on bank robberies.

Farm Bureau Chief Urges Help for Kennedy Efforts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A plea for an equitable solution to the nation's farm problems went out to delegates at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting today.

It came from D. R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the bureau and member of the National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

Asking the farmers to work with the Kennedy Administration in seeking a solution, Stanfield said: "Bitterness in Congress benefits no one, particularly the farmer and consumer who still are faced with the need for a workable farm program."

He suggested that the Cropland Adjustment Program, presented to the delegates for action Wednesday, would be acceptable to both farmers and the administration.

The program calls for voluntary land retirement, technical programs to train rural persons for non-agricultural occupations, price supports at the 1961 levels and levels and voluntary retirement of whole farms on a bid basis.

A push forward on three fronts—internal, political and economic—was urged by Wendell Weller, Ohio bureau president.

He called for an increase in bureau membership and expansion of field services. Politically, he suggested working with other farm and non-agricultural groups to achieve legislative ends. "With fewer farmers we know that it is going to be more difficult in the future to make our voice heard on the local, state and national levels."

In economic matters Weller urged:

5 Students Jailed in Raid On Girls' Dorm

ADA, Ohio (AP)—Five Ohio Northern University students are in Hardin County jail in Kenton today in connection with a raid on a girls' dormitory about 1 a. m.

Two of the students are being held on possible traffic violations; the other three for investigation of charges stemming from the raid. Police Chief Byron Heffner said he received a call about 12:45 from the matron of Clark Hall, the freshmen girls' residence. The matron said she heard there was going to be a raid.

When Heffner and patrolman William Lease arrived at the dorm they said a group of boys milling around scattered. Walking around to the back of the building, the policemen saw a group of 75 to 100 students coming over from the boys' residence.

Unable to disperse the crowd, Heffner called in Hardin County Sheriff James Baldridge and his deputies who broke up the activities.

The matron reported that the raiders broke the front door of the dormitory.

Awards for distinguished service to agriculture were presented to W. Norton Woods of Maumee, former president of the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, and Forrest G. Ketter of Columbus, former secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Producers Livestock Association.

Four Ohio counties were given the Advisory Council Awards for adding the most new counties during 1961. They are Shelby, Erie, Darke and Fairfield. Darke, Shelby and Fairfield counties, as well as Wayne County, were cited with County Program Awards for participation in federation activities, added membership and management of the county bureau.

Nancy Wilson Officer of Youth Group

Miss Nancy Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilson, Route 1, today was elected secretary of the State Farm Bureau Youth Committee.

Miss Wilson was named during the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting being conducted in Columbus. She recently was elected president of the Farm Bureau Southeast Region Youth Cabinet in a gathering at Zanesville, making her eligible for the State Youth Council.

James Patterson of Chesterland, Geauga County, was elected chairman of the State Youth Committee, the eight member policy-making body concerned with the Farm Bureau's youth program.

Jack Walter, Route 1, Dover, was elected vice chairman. Others on the committee include Dwight McKay of Wilmington.

McKay won the "Youthpower" contest at the Farm Bureau's youth session with an illustrated talk on teenage diets. He will attend the National Youthpower Congress in Chicago in March.

U.S. Insecurity Is Growing, Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Ten years ago we began an arms race and now the only thing greater than our strength is our insecurity," says Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review.

Cousins gave that opinion Monday night to an audience of 1,200 at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 43rd annual meeting.

He said we should forget fall out shelters and work for peace while there is still time.

He called for strengthening the United Nations to accomplish this end.

Ohio Assembly Resumes State Finance Debate

Korean Chief, Kennedy Confer

More U.S. Assistance Is General's Goal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Chung Hee Park, leader of the military junta that seized power in South Korea, opens his talks with President Kennedy today with a request for strong U.S. economic support and additional military aid.

U.S. officials said Kennedy will pledge American aid in principle and approve a plan to modernize South Korea's 600,000-man armed forces.

The groundwork for Park's meeting with Kennedy will be laid when Park confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Fowler Hamilton, U.S. aid administrator.

The general then meets Kennedy for the first time at a small White House lunch. Afterward, the two will talk alone through an interpreter in the President's office.

Park came to prominence last May when he and a group of fellow officers overthrew the elected government.

At first, the United States was cool to the revolutionary junta but gradually gave it increasing support as the junta attacked graft and corruption in government and undertook a series of social reforms.

Park was met late Monday with a red carpet welcome, complete with a 19-gun salute and full military honors at National Airport.

In welcoming him, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said: "In the next two days President Kennedy and members of his administration will discuss with you how we in America can assist in the fulfillment of plans for the greater well-being and prosperity of the Korean people."

Park replied: "This visit affords us an unparalleled opportunity to discuss our mutual problems. We shall repay the United States and other free world allies for their support and assistance by reconstructing our nation. Doing this will enable us to fulfill our responsibilities more effectively as a member of the free world."

U.S. To Urge 20 Nations To Hike Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will propose this week that the 20 nations of the Atlantic Community increase their combined economic output 50 per cent by 1970, U. S. officials said today.

George W. Ball, U.S. undersecretary of state for economic affairs, will present the proposal at the conference of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development in Paris Thursday and Friday.

The organization has three declared aims: to work in the interest of achieving the highest possible economic growth, to assist less-developed areas of the world with capital investments, and to expand world trade.

The United States believes, officials said, that with the economic recovery of Western Europe completed and with the free convertibility of Western European currencies generally achieved, it is time to set a new goal. It would raise the present combined gross national output of the 20-nation body from about $900 billion a year to $1.35 trillion within nine years.

The annual gross national product of the United States would increase from $520 billion in 1961 to $780 billion by 1970 if the goal is reached.

Immediate Disarmament Is Demanded by Nehru

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India called for immediate and general disarmament Monday night, warning that each year of delay will make a solution more difficult.

Speaking at the Beverly Hilton Hotel on the eve of his departure from the United States, Nehru said he is hopeful disarmament can be accomplished now.

Earlier Nehru said "war is unlikely in the foreseeable future." He said internal conditions in the Soviet Union are not conducive to war fever.

GOP-Dixie Bloc May Rule House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two men other than the speaker and majority leader may decide the fate of major legislation in the House in the session starting Jan. 10.

They are Howard W. Smith, Virginia Democrat who heads the Rules Committee, and Charles A. Halleck, Indiana Republican who leads the minority.

For years Smith and Halleck have teamed up to head a conservative coalition that at times has dominated the House despite its nominal control by Democrats.

The Northern Republican-Southern Democrat coalition's chief stumbling block in the past has been Sam Rayburn, who was able on occasion to win over enough Southerners to save coalition-opposed legislation. Rayburn's success was attributed primarily to his personal popularity with his Southern colleagues.

The 79-year-old speaker is ill with cancer in a Bonham, Tex., hospital and not even his most optimistic friends expect him to return to Washington.

It is generally assumed that Rayburn will be succeeded as speaker by John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, now the Democratic leader, and that McCormack's leadership post will go to Carl Albert of Oklahoma, now the Democratic whip, or assistant leader.

Neither McCormack nor Albert has demonstrated the ability to crack the usually solid Southern lines as Rayburn did on occasion. On at least three major issues during the 1961 session of Congress, Rayburn was credited with having saved the day for the liberals by personal appeals to some Southern Democrats.

Even some of the more optimistic liberals in the House concede privately that the 1962 session will be a bad one as far as the Kennedy legislative program is concerned. They see serious trouble ahead for legislation dealing with tariffs, school aid, medical care for the aged, foreign aid and any program involving heavy expenditures of public money.

On the contrary, the commission said, it accepts as substantially true evidence indicating Lumumba and his associates were killed Jan. 17 after their arrival in a villa not far from Elisabethville, the Katanga capital.

It was not until Feb. 13 that the Katanga radio first announced death of the fiery Congolese leader.

Considerable doubt was voiced at the time over the veracity of the announcement and the commission's findings substantiated claims that Lumumba had been put to death long before his death was announced.

The U.N. General Assembly established the commission last April upon recommendation by the security council. Its members were Justice Aung Khine of Burma, Ato Tashoma Hailemariam of Ethiopia, Dr. Salvador Martinez de Alva of Mexico and Maitre Ayite d'Almeida of Togo.

That could create as much as a two-month lag in receipts from the state's biggest source of revenue.

The state can ill-afford such a lag because it is running very close to the bottom of the cash barrel every month.

Maloon urged the legislature to take some step to avoid the lag, but his suggestion was ignored. Unless some legislative action is taken at the session opening Wednesday to avoid the lag, he has warned, he fears the state government's financial reputation will suffer as a result.

As previously indicated, Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, confirmed that the legislature will make no attempt to override the governor's veto of second-year appropriations. Instead, a completely new bill will be offered in the House, perhaps with some slight adjustments. At the same time, a new capital improvements bill will be offered in the Senate. It will call for rock-bottom spending of about $39 million, about the same as the two similar bills defeated earlier.

The Soviet bloc voted with the majority for the resolution. The Western powers objected to having such restrictions voted for only one part of the world. The move hit directly at France which has a nuclear testing base in the Sahara.

Reservists' Morale Is Hailed by General

FT. POLK, La. (AP)—The high morale of reservists called to active duty shows that Americans are determined to defend freedom, says the commanding general of the Continental Army Command.

Gen. Herbert B. Powell made the statement at a news conference Monday after an inspection of this base, manne almost entirely by reserve units.

The clergyman, the Rev. Lowell Wellman, carried petitions he said came from about a dozen Ohio ministers asking the President to take a look at Sobell's case.

Sobell was sent to prison in 1951 for a 30-year term. He was convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage. His wife picked the White House last September, too.

Sobell's case was connected with that of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted and executed as atomic spies.

Republicans See No Crisis Ahead

Democrats Contend Cash Shortage Nears

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Republican-controlled legislature returned to Columbus today to tackle the state's financial crisis the Democrats say is coming.

Except for a futile one-day special session Sept. 22, the lawmakers have been in recess 14 weeks.

House Speaker Roger Cloud said the total of the budget bill to run the state government for the 1962-63 fiscal year will be $1,022,588, -230, including a restoration of about $700,000 in appropriations for state supported universities. He released the figures a few minutes before the House reconvened.

It is anyone's guess how long they will be in session this time as they attempt to find the answer to a threatened ready cash shortage a few weeks hence and then try to agree on a state budget measure for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, dissatisfied with Republican allocations for education, mental health and welfare, took the drastic and unprecedented step last July of vetoing the entire appropriation for the second year of the fiscal biennium.

That is the reason the GOP-controlled General Assembly decided to take a recess until today rather than adjourn last Aug. 2.

Just before the gavel fell on the regular session, a Senate foulup defeated the additions and betterments bill—the appropriations measure which pays for new state buildings. Faced with the prospect of a long delay on building projects, DiSalle called a special session Sept. 22 for the sole purpose of passing the beleaguered bill, but it again was defeated in the Senate in a one-day session.

Since that time, DiSalle's finance director, James H. Maloon, has predicted a money crisis between mid-January and mid-February.

The problem is the switchover, approved by this year's legislature, from a prepaid sales tax stamp system to a sales-tax without stamps under which retailers will be allowed 30 days after a calendar month in which they collect sales tax money to make payment to the state treasury.

That could create as much as a two-month lag in receipts from the state's biggest source of revenue.

The state can ill-afford such a lag because it is running very close to the bottom of the cash barrel every month.

Maloon urged the legislature to take some step to avoid the lag, but his suggestion was ignored. Unless some legislative action is taken at the session opening Wednesday to avoid the lag, he has warned, he fears the state government's financial reputation will suffer as a result.

Farm Bureau Chief Urges Help for Kennedy Efforts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A plea for an equitable solution to the nation's farm problems went out to delegates at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting today.

It came from D. R. Stanfield, executive vice president of the bureau and member of the National Agricultural Advisory Commission.

Asking the farmers to work with the Kennedy Administration in seeking a solution, Stanfield said, "Bitterness in Congress benefits no one, particularly the farmer and consumer who still are faced with the need for a workable farm program."

He suggested that the Cropland Adjustment Program, presented to the delegates for action Wednesday, would be acceptable to both farmers and the administration.

The program calls for voluntary land retirement, technical programs to train rural persons for non-agricultural occupations, price supports at the 1961 levels and levels and voluntary retirement of whole farms on a bid basis.

A push forward on three fronts—internal, political and economic—was urged by Wendell Weller, Ohio bureau president.

He called for an increase in bureau membership and expansion of field services. Politically, he suggested working with other farm and non-agricultural groups to achieve legislative ends. "With fewer farmers we know that it is going to be more difficult in the future to make our voice heard on the local, state and national levels."

In economic matters Weller urged:

5 Students Jailed in Raid On Girls' Dorm

ADA, Ohio (AP)—Five Ohio Northern University students are in Hardin County Jail in Kenton today in connection with a raid on a girls' dormitory about 1 a. m.

Two of the students are being held on possible traffic violations; the other three for investigation of charges stemming from the raid.

Police Chief Byron Heffner said he received a call about 12:45 from the matron of Clark Hall, the freshmen girls' residence. The matron said she heard there was going to be a raid.

When Heffner and patrolman William Lease arrived at the dorm they said a group of boys milled around scattered. Walking around to the back of the building, the policemen saw a group of 75 to 100 students coming over from the boys' residence.

Unable to disperse the crowd, Heffner called in Hardin County Sheriff James Baldrige and his deputies who broke up the activities.

The matron reported that the raiders broke the front door of the dormitory.

ed more efficient management in farmer-owned and controlled institutions. "Our farm supply cooperatives in the future will need to control more of the raw materials used in the manufacture of farm supplies."

Awards for distinguished service to agriculture were presented to W. Norton Woods of Maumee, former president of the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, and Forrest G. Ketner of Columbus, former secretary-treasurer and general manager of the Producers Livestock Association.

Four Ohio counties were given the Advisory Council Awards for adding the most new councils during 1961. They are Shelby, Erie, Darke and Fairfield. Darke, Shelby and Fairfield counties, as well as Wayne County, were cited with County Program Awards for participation in federation activities, added membership and management of the county bureau.

Nancy Wilson Officer of Youth Group

Miss Nancy Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wilson, Route 1, today was elected secretary of the State Farm Bureau Youth Committee.

Miss Wilson was named during the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting being conducted in Columbus. She recently was elected president of the Farm Bureau Southeast Region Youth Cabinet in a gathering at Zanesville, making her eligible for the State Youth Council.

James Patterson of Chesterland, Geauga County, was elected chairman of the State Youth Committee, the eight member policy-making body concerned with the Farm Bureau's youth program.

Jack Walter, Route 1, Dover, was elected vice chairman. Others on the committee include Dwight McKay of Wilmington.

McKay won the "Youthpower" contest at the Farm Bureau's youth session with an illustrated talk on teenage diets. He will attend the National Youthpower Congress in Chicago in March.

U.S. Insecurity Is Growing, Claim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Ten years ago we began an arms race and now the only thing greater than our strength is our insecurity," says Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review.

Cousins gave that opinion Monday night to an audience of 1,200 at the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation's 43rd annual meeting.

He said we should forget fall out shelters and work for peace while there is still time.

He called for strengthening the United Nations to accomplish this end.

Ohio Assembly Resumes State Finance Debate

Korean Chief, Kennedy Confer

More U.S. Assistance Is General's Goal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lt. Gen. Chung Hee Park, leader of the military junta that seized power in South Korea, opens his talks with President Kennedy today with a request for strong U.S. economic support and additional military aid.

U.S. officials said Kennedy will pledge American aid in principle and approve a plan to modernize South Korea's 600,000-man armed forces.

The groundwork for Park's meeting with Kennedy will be laid when Park confers with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Fowler Hamilton, U.S. aid administrator.

The general then meets Kennedy for the first time at a small White House lunch. Afterward, the two will talk alone through an interpreter in the President's office.

Park came to prominence last May when he and a group of fellow officers overthrew the elected government.

At first, the United States was cool to the revolutionary junta but gradually gave it increasing support as the junta attacked graft and corruption in government and undertook a series of social reforms.

Park was met late Monday with a red carpet welcome, complete with a 19-gun salute and full military honors at National Airport.

In welcoming him, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson said: "In the next two days President Kennedy and members of his administration will discuss with you how we in America can assist in the fulfillment of plans for the greater well-being and prosperity of the Korean people."

Park replied: "This visit affords us an unparalleled opportunity to discuss our mutual problems. We shall repay the United States and other free world allies for their support and assistance by reconstructing our nation. Doing this will enable us to fulfill our responsibilities more effectively as a member of the free world."

U.S. To Urge 20 Nations To Hike Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will propose this week that the 20 nations of the Atlantic Community increase their combined economic output 50 per cent by 1970, U. S. officials said today.

George W. Ball, U.S. undersecretary of state for economic affairs, will present the proposal at the conference of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development in Paris Thursday and Friday.

The organization has three declared aims: to work in the interest of achieving the highest possible economic growth, to assist less-developed areas of the world with capital investments, and to expand world trade.

The United States believes, officials said, that with the economic recovery of Western Europe completed and with the free convertibility of Western European currencies generally achieved, it is time to set a new goal. It would raise the present combined gross national output of the 20-nation body from about $900 billion a year to $1.35 trillion within nine years.

The annual gross national product of the United States would increase from $520 billion in 1961 to $780 billion by 1970 if the goal is reached.

Immediate Disarmament Is Demanded by Nehru

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru of India called for immediate and general disarmament Monday night, warning that each year of delay will make a solution more difficult.

Speaking at the Beverly Hilton Hotel on the eve of his departure from the United States, Nehru said he is hopeful disarmament can be accomplished now.

Earlier Nehru said "war is unlikely in the foreseeable future." He said internal conditions in the Soviet Union are not conducive to war fever.

The Soviet bloc voted the majority for the resolution.

The Western powers objected to having such restrictions voted for only one part of the world. The move hit directly at France which has a nuclear testing base in the Sahara.

Reservists' Morale Is Hailed by General

FT. POLK, La. (AP)—The high morale of reservists called to active duty shows that Americans are determined to defend freedom, says the commanding general of the Continental Army Command.

GOP-Dixie Bloc May Rule House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two men other than the speaker and majority leader may decide the fate of major legislation in the House in the session starting Jan. 10.

They are Howard W. Smith, Virginia Democrat who heads the Rules Committee, and Charles A. Halleck, Indiana Republican who leads the minority.

For years Smith and Halleck have teamed up to head a conservative coalition that at times has dominated the House despite its nominal control by Democrats.

The Northern Republican-Southern Democrat coalition's chief stumbling block in the past has been Sam Rayburn, who was able on occasion to win over enough Southerners to save coalition-opposed legislation. Rayburn's success was attributed primarily to his personal popularity with his Southern colleagues.

The 79-year-old speaker is ill with cancer in a Bonham, Tex., hospital and not even his most optimistic friends expect him to return to Washington.

It is generally assumed that Rayburn will be succeeded as speaker by John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, now the Democratic leader, and that McCormack's leadership post will go to Carl Albert of Oklahoma, now the Democratic whip, or assistant leader.

Neither McCormack nor Albert has demonstrated the ability to crack the usually solid Southern lines as Rayburn did on occasion. On at least three major issues during the 1961 session of Congress, Rayburn was credited with having saved the day for the liberals by personal appeals to some Southern Democrats.

Even some of the more optimistic liberals in the House concede privately that the 1962 session will be a bad one as far as the Kennedy legislative program is concerned. They see serious trouble ahead for legislation dealing with tariffs, school aid, medical care for the aged, foreign aid and any program involving heavy expenditures of public money.

New Ohio Law To Face Test Before Court

CINCINNATI (AP)—It's up to the courts now to decide who shall be clerk of courts in Hamilton County — Ben Hayes or William Luke Leonard.

The fate of a new Ohio law also hangs in the balance. Hayes, a Democrat, opposed Elmer Hunsicker for the position in the 1960 elections. He lost.

Hunsicker died Nov. 5, and the judges of common pleas court named his chief deputy, Leonard, acting clerk for 30 days to give the Republican Central Committee time to decide on a successor.

Under a law that went into effect Oct. 12, the power to name a new county clerk belongs to the deceased clerk's party central committee. Formerly the county commissioners were in charge of naming the successor.

Monday the Hamilton County commissioners asserted their old powers and appointed Hayes clerk of courts pro tem. Two of the three commissioners are Democrats.

Hayes said he will ask the secretary of state to issue him a commission. He said he will challenge the new law in the courts if the secretary refuses to recognize his appointment.

It not only called for a halt to all nuclear weapons testing in Africa, but urged all countries to refrain from transporting or storing hydrogen or atomic bombs on African territory.

The United States and France voted against two key provisions of the resolution in paragraph-by-paragraph voting, but on the resolution as a whole they abstained along with Britain, a substantial number of Western European countries and some Latin-American delegates.

The Soviet bloc voted the majority for the resolution.

The Western powers objected to having such restrictions voted for only one part of the world. The move hit directly at France which has a nuclear testing base in the Sahara.

Republicans See No Crisis Ahead

Democrats Contend Cash Shortage Nears

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Republican-controlled legislature returned to Columbus today to tackle the state's financial crisis the Democrats say is coming.

Except for a futile one-day special session Sept. 22, the lawmakers have been in recess 14 weeks.

House Speaker Roger Cloud said the total of the budget bill to run the state government for the 1962-63 fiscal year will be $1,022,588,220, including a restoration of about $700,000 in appropriations for state supported universities. He released the figures a few minutes before the House reconvened.

It is anyone's guess how long they will be in session this time as they attempt to find the answer to a threatened ready cash shortage a few weeks hence and then try to agree on a state budget measure for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, dissatisfied with Republican allocations for education, mental health and welfare, took the drastic and unprecedented step last July of vetoing the entire appropriation for the second year of the fiscal biennium.

That is the reason the GOP-controlled General Assembly decided to take a recess until today rather than adjourn last Aug. 2.

Just before the gavel fell on the regular session, a Senate foulup defeated the additions and betterments bill — the appropriations measure which pays for new state buildings. Faced with the prospect of a long delay on building projects, DiSalle called a special session Sept. 22 for the sole purpose of passing the beleaguered bill, but it again was defeated in the Senate in a one-day session.

Since that time, DiSalle's finance director, James H. Maloon, has predicted a money crisis between mid-January and mid-February.

The problem is the switchover, approved by this year's legislature, from a prepaid sales tax stamp system to a sales-tax without stamps under which retailers will be allowed 30 days after a calendar month in which they collect sales tax money to make payment to the state treasury.

That could create as much as a two-month lag in receipts from the state's biggest source of revenue.

The state can ill-afford such a lag because it is running very close to the bottom of the cash barrel every month.

Maloon urged the legislature to take some steps to avoid the lag, but his suggestion was ignored. Unless some legislative action is taken at the session opening Wednesday to avoid the lag, he has warned, he fears the state government's financial reputation will suffer as a result.

As previously indicated, Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, confirmed that the legislature will make no attempt to override the governor's veto of second-year appropriations. Instead, a completely new bill will be offered in the House, perhaps with some slight adjustments. At the same time, a new capital improvements bill will be offered in the Senate. It will call for rock-bottom spending of about $39 million, about the same as the two similar bills defeated earlier.

Ohio Clerics Ask Review of Sobell

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Cleveland clergyman accompanied the wife and mother of convicted conspirator Morton Sobell as they picked the White House Monday hoping for presidential intervention.

The clergyman, the Rev. Lowell Wellman, carried petitions he said came from about a dozen Ohio ministers asking the President to take a look at Sobell's case.

Sobell was sent to prison in 1951 for a 30-year term. He was convicted of conspiracy to commit espionage. His wife picked the White House last September, too.

Sobell's case was connected with that of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted and executed as atomic spies.

New Styles To Bare Women Further

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—The American woman is going bare in yet another spot.

Styles shown at the 11th annual press week of California fashion designers left little doubt about that Monday.

Most of the tight-fitting, bulge-revealing Capri pants now known as St. Tro's pants, stretch pants, hip skimmers, jodhpurs and Southhamptons, are about an inch below the navel and three inches above arrest level.

Teen-age boys get sent home from school for wearing levis that way.

These low flying creations are being shown with everything from sweatshirts to midriff briefs.

The only relation the new-style shirts have to the old is their shape. Even that has been altered to a more ladylike silhouette with a few strategic tucks and pleats.

Midriff briefs are two pieces of cloth and a few buttons. The effect of the abbreviated pants and the more than abbreviated briefs is devastating.

One at-home jump suit—called the kitchen mechanic—is so low on top and tight all over that a fashion editor commented: "If every gal wore that in the kitchen there'd be very little cooking done. We could lick the overweight problem."

2 Votes in U.N. Fail To Oust South Africans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

—South Africa today had weathered twin moves to expel her from the United Nations and place her under a worldwide political-economic boycott. But her white supremacy policies were condemned by a resounding 72-2 vote.

The 103-nation special political committee voted 47-32 Monday for the demand by 30 Asian-African nations and Cuba to get the Security Council to consider ousting South Africa from the United Nations. The vote fell short of the two-thirds majority required for approval by the General Assembly.

The same fate befell the boycott call by the 31 sponsors. It was approved by the slim margin of 48-30.

The censure resolution by India and seven other nations denounced South Africa's apartheid policy of strict race segregation and asked member nations to take whatever action they deemed fit, individually or collectively. Only Portugal and South Africa voted against it, but there were 27 abstainers, including the United States, Britain and France.

The denunciation of apartheid was similar to a resolution approved by the assembly last year after a boycott proposal failed to get a two-thirds majority.

This time the committee tackled on three amendments which, since they did not get two-thirds majorities, probably will not clear the assembly. The Western powers had announced they would abstain in the vote on the resolution if the amendments were approved.

One, by Ethiopia, asked the Security Council to consider what steps should be taken against South Africa. Another, by the Soviet Union, calls for an embargo on arms to South Africa, and a Pakistani amendment calls for an oil embargo.

The vote came after three weeks of stormy debate during which South African Foreign Minister Eric Louw contended that expulsion of his country would be "the beginning of the end" of the United Nations.

Soviet Fishing Fleet Seen As Challenge to U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union's growing and far-ranging fishing fleet poses an "overt challenge to our defenses," says a semi-official publication on naval affairs.

An article in the November issue of "United States Naval Institute Proceedings" also contends the Soviet fishing fleet is an economic threat to Western nations by cutting down on the amount of fish the Soviet Union imports from them.

These are the views of Bernard M. Kassell, a retired U.S. Navy commander who reads Russian and told a reporter he gets much information by studying Soviet publications.

The "Proceedings" is the publication of the United States Naval Institute, an organization of Navy, Coast Guard and Marine officers. Its headquarters are on the campus of the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

Although the publication disclaims any official connection, it prints articles only after they have been approved by a board of control headed by Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations.

Kassell's article appeared a few days after a stir was caused by the appearance of a large fleet of Soviet trawlers and other fishing vessels in international waters off the Massachusetts coast.

"Reports from sources in the West, including those attributed to the U.S. Navy, indicate that there are from 200 to 400 such ships always at sea in strategic areas," the article said.

"Add to this number the countless fishing craft shuttling back and forth through strategic waters, and the picture becomes a disturbing one, particularly to nations bordering on the Baltic Sea."

Kassell suggests these fishing craft are capable of mining strategic waters. He quotes an unidentified Danish official as voicing concern that the Russians could land a sizable force from such craft.

The annual Family Carnival Night to be held in February was discussed. Mrs. Leo Morgan was appointed chairman of this event, with Mrs. Otto Guenther serving as co-chairman.

Abundant Food Supplies for 1962 'Assured'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted in an outlook report today that abundant supplies of food are virtually assured for 1962.

The agency said crop production next year is expected to change little from this year's ample level. Livestock production is expected to increase.

The report said prices are not likely to rise very much. Consumers were said to be spending around 3 per cent more for food this year than last. Expanding economic activity was said to point to a continued rise in consumer incomes and expenditures for food next year.

The 1962 outlook by major types of food included:

Meat — Production expected to increase enough to provide civilians with almost half a pound more meat a person than this year's average of about 160.6 pounds. The increase will be in pork.

Poultry and eggs—Supplies are expected to continue large in 1962 and may almost equal this year's record supplies.

Dairy products — Supplies of dairy products are expected to be abundant next year, exceeding domestic requirements by a wider margin than in any year since 1954.

Food fats and oils—Ample supplies assured by this year's increased production of soybeans and the current upturn in hog production.

Fruit—Total supplies in prospect from now until mid-1962 are moderately larger than a year earlier.

Vegetables — Supplies of fresh vegetables for months ahead will be somewhat smaller than a year earlier. But supplies of canned and frozen vegetables are larger.

Food cereals — Supplies of food cereals—wheat, rye and rice—will continue large.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Milk production, which has increased for two years in a row, is expected to set a new record in 1962.

An Agriculture Department outlook report said output next year may reach 127 billion pounds, compared with 125 billion indicated for this year. Such an increase would add greatly to surplus dairy products moving into government hands under price support operations unless consumers start consuming more.

The department said some easing off in beef cattle prices has contributed to an expansion in milk production. That is, more cows were kept for milking purposes than would have been the case had beef cattle prices held steady.

Another factor contributing to the increase in milk production was said to be increases in government price supports for dairy products.

Man Faces Murder Rap

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sykes Chaney, 32, was held without bond on charges of second-degree murder and shooting to kill today. Chaney is accused of the fatal shooting of his common law wife and the wounding of her daughter Friday night.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Korean general who flew here to see President Kennedy today is a symbol of the difference between an American ideal and the reality in the backward nations this country is trying to keep out of communism.

The ideal would be to see them spring full-blown out of the darkness of colonialism and feudalism into democratic systems like this one. The reality in many places is quite different.

Gen. Chung Hee Park, 44, heads a 28-man military junta which runs Korea as a dictatorship—for the time being, at least — after throwing out the elected government of John M. Chang.

The democratic system wasn't working. Korea was riddled with poverty, graft, corruption despite the enormous American aid it was given. The U.S. aid got largely lost in the graft and corruption.

It was only six months ago that Park's group of military officers thrust aside Chang's government. That was last May. Chang had been elected the previous August as the successor to Syngman Rhee.

Rhee, 84, supported by this country, had been elected by so-called democratic processes.

Camp David Decision Up To First Lady

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — Whether Camp David is to become a weekend retreat for President Kennedy rested today with his wife and daughter.

Kennedy brought his wife, Jacqueline, and his daughter, Caroline, to the isolated camp in the Catoctin Mountains of western Maryland Sunday for the first time.

If Mrs. Kennedy and Caroline like the mountain camp, the Kennedys may abandon or at least spend much less time at Glen Ora, their leased Virginia country estate near Middleburg. Caroline will be 4 Nov. 27.

Camp David served as a hideaway for Kennedy's three predecessors in the White House—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Kennedys flew here Sunday for an overnight stay after attending Mass at St. Stephens' church. They brought several guests, including Kennedy's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spalding of New York, long-time friends; and Princess Lee Radziwill of London, Mrs. Kennedy's sister.

Camp David, located on a mountain top, is in the Catoctin National Forest, cloaked in misty and chilly weather.

The Kennedys and their guests were kept comfortable by fires in open fireplaces in the big living-dining room and each of the four bedrooms of Aspen Lodge.

Fraternities at Kent Plead for State Funds

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A resolution adopted unanimously by the Interfraternity Council at Kent State University calls on state legislators in Northeast Ohio to insist on providing adequate funds for maintaining state universities. Telegrams will be sent to about 40 legislators.

Those processes were called something altogether different by Koreans, particularly students, when they rioted against Rhee in the spring of 1960.

They screamed that the elections were crooked. They were sick of the corruption and Rhee's repressions. They threw him out. Park and his group felt that Rhee's successor, Chang, after eight months had failed to improve things.

So they took over. Now they have American backing. Last August they promised to hold power only two years more before turning the government over to civilian authorities. How are they doing?

Almost a month ago The Associated Press reported out of Seoul:

Park's major problems are unchanged—factionalism within the 28-man ruling group, nationwide business stagnation and the danger of inflation. Division within the junta is deep and involves provincial loyalties, military academy classes, and family ties.

The generals and colonels have a gigantic farm problem. Sixty per cent of the 25 million South Koreans live through farming. Most farmers exist by borrowing on next year's crop and paying interest rates of up to 100 per cent a year.

The junta is trying to correct this. The junta is anti-Communist—the United States can take some consolation from this—but communism is sitting just across the doorstep in North Korea.

If Park and his men fail to get the country on its feet—or plunge into civil war because of disputes among themselves—what then?

One of the major questions of our time is: What chance does any country, lying near a Communist stronghold, have of staying out of communism unless there is an insistence on reforms that will make it more attractive than communism?

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A heavy layer of clouds covered the state during the night, with light rain or drizzle common through all areas.

Temperatures were again mild with readings in the 50s. However, cooler air entered the northwest counties, and temperatures there were about 10 degrees lower than those of other sections.

Light rain and drizzle will continue today, and cooler temperatures are expected for the remaining areas as the cool air displaces the mild air that has dominated the state.

Precipitation will end in most places tonight and in the extreme southeast by Wednesday morning. mDry, cool weather is indicated Wednesday.

Early morning temperatures today included Findlay 46 and Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton and Marietta 58.

One decision, given on Nov. 3, 1960, ordered the Chattanooga Board of Education to present a plan of integration by Dec. 20 of that year.

The board submitted an integration plan but on Jan. 23, 1961, Judge Darr rejected it on the grounds it would be too slow an operation.

The net effect of today's decision was to order the school board to speed up its plan of integration.

The two decisions of the district judge were given as the result of a suit filed by parents of several Negro children.

Farmer's Lot Is Improving, Ag Chief Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said today the first year of the "New Frontier" has clear implications for improving the future of the nation's farmers.

Opening the Agriculture Department annual economic outlook conference, Freeman recalled that a year ago, the forecast for 1961 was given at a similar conference

Embezzlers Given Income Tax Rules

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Service to the reader is a prime objective of any newspaper, including the OP News, publication of Ohio Penitentiary.

It's recent issue carried a directive from the Internal Revenue Service—a reminder to include proceeds from embezzlement under "gross income" for the year in which funds are embezzled when filling out federal tax forms.

in these words: "In view of the supply, demand and price support outlook, cash receipts from farm marketings and realized net income of farm operators in 1961 are expected to change little from the 1960 level."

Freeman said that was a gloomy forecast—gloomy because it offered no hope for improvement of an average farm income that was less than half of the national average, and gloomy because it indicated no expectation of a halt in the downward trend of farm income as compared with nonfarm income.

"But, as you know, this gloomy forecast did not materialize," the secretary said.

"It did not materialize because of action taken by this administration. Realized net farm income this year will be a billion dollars more than the 1960 level of 11.7 billion."

The four-day conference is be-

forecast for ENERGY

America's rapidly growing population
will consume twice as much energy by 1980

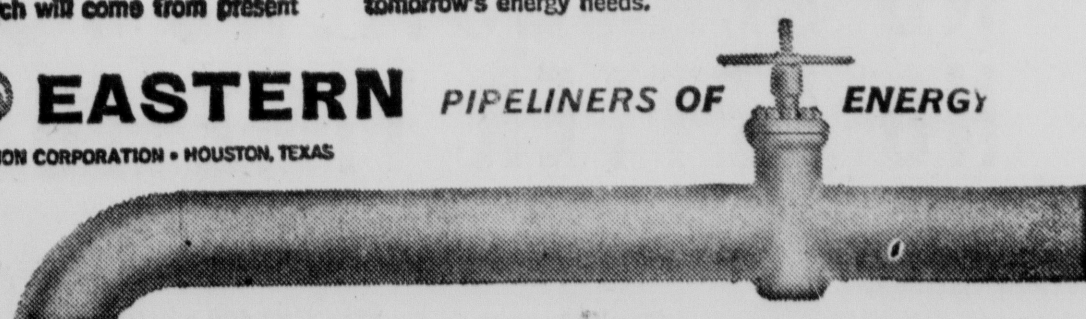

Glance at the second hand on your watch. Each seventh second a baby is born in the U.S. — more than four million a year. We'll have half again as many citizens by 1980. And, our need for energy grows even faster than our population. By 1980 the nation will need twice the energy being consumed today.

Where will it come from? Much will come from present energy sources, some from new ones. Whatever the source, a large share of energy in its most efficient and usable forms will be transported via pipelines. Texas Eastern's natural gas pipelines, stretching from the Mexican border to the Atlantic Seaboard, have capacity to fuel thousands of factories and heat millions of homes. Our Little Big Inch pipeline system, largest of its kind, delivers liquid petroleum products from Gulf Coast refineries to Midwest markets. Looking to the future, Texas Eastern is growing and diversifying today to meet tomorrow's energy needs.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sykes Chaney, 32, was held without bond on charges of second-degree murder and shooting to kill today. Chaney is accused of the fatal shooting of his common law wife and the wounding of her daughter Friday night.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Korean general who flew here to see President Kennedy today is a symbol of the difference between an American ideal and the reality in the backward nations this country is trying to keep out of communism.

The ideal would be to see them spring full-blown out of the darkness of colonialism and feudalism into democratic systems like this one. The reality in many places is quite different.

Gen. Chung Hee Park, 44, heads a 28-man military junta which runs Korea as a dictatorship—for the time being, at least — after throwing out the elected government of John M. Chang.

The democratic system wasn't working. Korea was riddled with poverty, graft, corruption despite the enormous American aid it was given. The U.S. aid got largely lost in the graft and corruption.

It was only six months ago that Park's group of military officers thrust aside Chang's government. That was last May. Chang had been elected the previous August as the successor to Syngman Rhee.

Rhee, 84, supported by this country, had been elected by so-called democratic processes.

Camp David Decision Up To First Lady

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — Whether Camp David is to become a weekend retreat for President Kennedy rested today with his wife and daughter.

Kennedy brought his wife, Jacqueline, and his daughter, Caroline, to the isolated camp in the Catoctin Mountains of western Maryland Sunday for the first time.

If Mrs. Kennedy and Caroline like the mountain camp, the Kennedys may abandon or at least spend much less time at Glen Ora, their leased Virginia country estate near Middleburg. Caroline will be 4 Nov. 27.

Camp David served as a hideaway for Kennedy's three predecessors in the White House—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Kennedys flew here Sunday for an overnight stay after attending Mass at St. Stephens' church. They brought several guests, including Kennedy's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spalding of New York, long-time friends; and Princess Lee Radziwill of London, Mrs. Kennedy's sister.

Camp David, located on a mountain top, is in the Catoctin National Forest, cloaked in misty and chilly weather.

The Kennedys and their guests were kept comfortable by fires in open fireplaces in the big living-dining room and each of the four bedrooms of Aspen Lodge.

Fraternities at Kent Plead for State Funds

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A resolution adopted unanimously by the Interfraternity Council at Kent State University calls on state legislators in Northeastern Ohio to insist on providing adequate funds for maintaining state universities. Telegrams will be sent to about 40 legislators.

Those processes were called something altogether different by Koreans, particularly students, when they rioted against Rhee in the spring of 1960.

They screamed that the elections were crooked. They were sick of the corruption and Rhee's repressions. They threw him out. Park and his group felt that Rhee's successor, Chang, after eight months had failed to improve things.

So they took over. Now they have American backing. Last August they promised to hold power only two years more before turning the government over to civilian authorities. How are they doing?

Almost a month ago The Associated Press reported out of Seoul:

Park's major problems are unchanged—factionalism within the 28-man ruling group, nationwide

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A heavy layer of clouds covered the state during the night, with light rain or drizzle common through all areas.

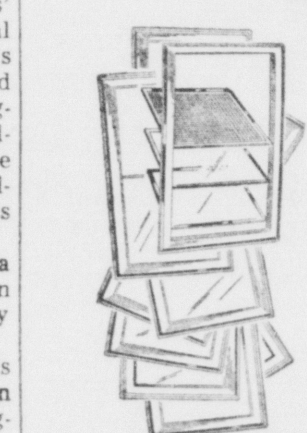

Temperatures were again mild with readings in the 50s. However, cooler air entered the northwest counties, and temperatures there were about 10 degrees lower than those of other sections.

Light rain and drizzle will continue today, and cooler temperatures are expected for the remaining areas as the cool air displaces the mild air that has dominated the state.

Precipitation will end in most places tonight and in the extreme southeast by Wednesday morning. mDry, cool weather is indicated Wednesday.

Early morning temperatures today included Findlay 46 and Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton and Marietta 58.

business stagnation and the danger of inflation. Division within the junta is deep and involves provincial loyalties, military academy classes, and family ties.

The generals and colonels have a gigantic farm problem. Sixty per cent of the 25 million South Koreans live through farming. Most farmers exist by borrowing on next year's crop and paying interest rates of up to 100 per cent a year.

The junta is trying to correct this. The junta is anti-Communist — the United States can take some consolation from this — but communism is sitting just across the doorstep in North Korea.

If Park and his men fail to get the country on its feet—or plunge into civil war because of disputes among themselves — what then?

One of the major questions of our time is: What chance does any country, lying near a Communist stronghold, have of staying out of communism unless there is an insistence on reforms that will make it more attractive than communism?

School Mixing Orders Upheld

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals, sixth circuit, today affirmed two decisions by U.S. District Judge Leslie R. Darr designed to speed up integration of Chattanooga public schools.

One decision, given on Nov. 3, 1960, ordered the Chattanooga Board of Education to present a plan of integration by Dec. 20 of that year.

The board submitted an integration plan but on Jan. 23, 1961, Judge Darr rejected it on the grounds it would be too slow an operation.

The net effect of today's decision was to order the school board to speed up its plan of integration.

The two decisions of the district judge were given as the result of a suit filed by parents of several Negro children.

Farmer's Lot Is Improving, Ag Chief Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said today the first year of the "New Frontier" has clear implications for improving the future of the nation's farmers.

Opening the Agriculture Department annual economic outlook conference, Freeman recalled that a year ago, the forecast for 1961 was given at a similar conference in these words: "In view of the supply, demand and price support outlook, cash receipts from farm marketings and realized net income of farm operators in 1961 are expected to change little from the 1960 level."

Freeman said that was a gloomy forecast—gloomy because it offered no hope for improvement of an average farm income that was less than half of the national average, and gloomy because it indicated no expectation of a halt in the downward trend of farm income as compared with nonfarm income.

"But, as you know, this gloomy forecast did not materialize," the secretary said.

"It did not materialize because of action taken by this administration. Realized net farm income this year will be a billion dollars more than the 1960 level of 11.7 billion."

The four-day conference is be-

America's rapidly growing population
will consume twice as much energy by 1980

Glance at the second hand on your watch. Each seventh second a baby is born in the U.S. — more than four million a year. We'll have half again as many citizens by 1980. And, our need for energy grows even faster than our population. By 1980 the nation will need twice the energy being consumed today.

Where will it come from? Much will come from present energy sources, some from new ones. Whatever the source, a large share of energy in its most efficient and usable forms will be transported via pipelines. Texas Eastern's natural gas pipelines, stretching from the Mexican border to the Atlantic Seaboard, have capacity to fuel thousands of factories and heat millions of homes. Our Little Big Inch pipeline system, largest of its kind, delivers liquid petroleum products from Gulf Coast refineries to Midwest markets. Looking to the future, Texas Eastern is growing and diversifying today to meet tomorrow's energy needs.

Criticism Is Organized

Self-criticism is something of a current vogue in America, and nobody is anybody if he has not decried some trend of the present. But the fad has nearly burned itself out.

There is a shortage of mint condition icons, and latecomers to the game must settle for some small scandal, like the state of inland fisheries or under-the-table payments to amateur athletes.

To demonstrate the spirit of the times, and the enervation forced upon it, take the case of William Brady. Brady, an industrialist (the chairman of the Corn Products Co. must be an industrialist), told the Association of National Advertisers that Big Business is resisting innovation and discouraging creativity.

He decried the tendency to lionize the "man of facts" at the expense of the creative man. The trend causes "cliques of yes men" to spring up, status becomes the main concern of executives, and things generally go to pot.

"There seems to be a basic cultural distaste for innovation," Brady said, while in the past "we were continuously in search of new frontiers."

"Perhaps our society has over-structured its systems and locked its people in."

And perhaps it has, when even the voice of protest speaks in the language of the Establishment — "status," "cultural distaste," "over-structured systems," "new frontiers."

It is no news that organization cripples creativity, which is purely individual. But now even criticism has become organized and regularized, society-wise and language-wise.

Old Traditions Fade

Thinking among agricultural authorities in Washington is reported to be in the direction of waiting for more government controls until most of the farmland is operated by the younger generation.

The oncoming farmers will conduct their operations as a business instead of a way of life, it is theorized. They will want management programs with government consent or in partnership with Washington.

That this would take the form of government sanctions for all farmers to organize around a crop and put drastic controls on marketing with the consent of public law is indicated. But some such proposal will obviously be advocated by dedicated farm crop controllers to replace the multi-billion dollar appropriations year after year which are getting nowhere so far as improving agricultural income is concerned. Advocates of government controls always recommend more controls when their ideas fail to come up to expectations.

It is not news that they are already planning another leap forward as soon as old traditions fade.

A Purpose in Mind

By George Sokolsky

At the moment of writing, the Russians have detonated more than 30 major bombs, one of them the largest ever detonated by man, the more than 50 megaton bomb.

The Russian series cannot be altogether without purpose although it was suspected for a time, that Khrushchev was using the bomb for terroristic propaganda. The series is too large and is over too long a period of time to be merely terroristic propaganda. There must be other purposes.

The Russian bombs have been of all types and kinds, including an underwater bomb and possibly the anti-missile, neutron bomb. The Russian excuse that they need to explode as many bombs as all the NATO powers is nonsense. An experimental test discloses all its data to the scientists of all countries. Therefore, it is not sound for the Russians to contend that ill-for-lal explosions are needed. Furthermore, the United States have not been exploding bombs.

The Russian effort is undoubtedly designed to develop anti-missile bombs and to develop nuclear warheads for long-range rockets which could damage our missile sites. More than anything, the Russians fear our Polar fleet. The submarine nuclear weapons which we have, the Russians have not yet equalled. But they are apparently working on anti-missile defense bombs which they hope to use against us.

Obviously Soviet Russia and the United States are at war, but the means of conducting the war are different from anything we have heretofore known. When Soviet Russia, for instance, explodes a 50 megaton bomb, a warlike step has been taken which affects the entire Earth and a point can be reached at which mere explosions of bombs will have the effect of battles won or lost.

Th air, the sea, the soil of the entire Northern hemisphere are being polluted. It will not be long before Red China retaliates which can geographically involve the Southern hemisphere, particularly the nations of the Indian Ocean. This body is to the Afro-Asian countries what the Mediterranean Ocean is to the European-African-Asian countries. The difference, however, is that the countries which lie on the Indian Ocean are utterly defenseless, being among the secondary peoples whose history has been one of long dependence on Europe.

Soviet Russia's effort to establish military supremacy over the United States thus becomes a mathematical equation. If Soviet Russia has more nuclear weapons in greater variety than we have, we can be defeated. This then is something that the American people need to know in understandable terms. The President has said that we are superior to the Russians in every respect, but the Russians give the impression of being superior.

Kennedy says one thing; Khrushchev another. We prefer to believe Kennedy. He is our President and is liable to be for quite a number of years. It makes sense, in a crisis, such as we now face, to support him as one can in conscience do.

On the other hand, confidence must in some manner be established. Until the Cuban fiasco, the American people generally responded to Kennedy's youth and enthusiasm amiably. The Cuban fiasco came as a shock from which this nation has not yet recovered. Further, it is difficult to understand why, if it is our policy to go the limit in defense of Berlin, did we permit the Russians to build the wall between East and West Berlin. It would seem to be as possible to knock that wall down brick by brick, as it is going up, as to fight a major war over it.

These contradictions require explanation. President Kennedy has faced crisis after crisis since he has come into office. None of these crises were exactly of his making but statesmanship requires a recognition of the continuation of government through Administration after Administration. It does no good to object to the errors of predecessors; that is the function of the historian not of the statesman who goes right ahead accepting what he finds no matter who is responsible. When one writes historically, he must determine how much mischief was done by Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt. But politically, it is only possible to deal with today and tomorrow.

This then is the tough and trying task of President Kennedy. His judgment must be immediately right. His advisers need to be men of impeccable wisdom and patriotism. We are in a war crisis which calls for great minds and courageous spirits.

The air, the sea, the soil of the entire Northern Hemisphere are being polluted. It will not be long before Red China retaliates which can geographically involve the Southern Hemisphere, particularly the nations of the Indian Ocean. This body is to the Afro-Asian countries what the Mediterranean Ocean is to the European-African-Asian countries. The difference, however, is that the countries which lie on the Indian Ocean are utterly defenseless, being among the secondary peoples whose history has been one of long dependence on Europe.

Soviet Russia's effort to establish military supremacy over the United States thus becomes a mathematical equation. If Soviet Russia has more nuclear weapons in greater variety than we have, we can be defeated. This then is something that the American people need to know in understandable terms. The President has said that we are superior to the Russians in every respect, but the Russians give the impression of being superior.

Kennedy says one thing: Khrushchev another. We prefer to believe Kennedy. He is our President and is liable to be for quite a number of years. It makes sense, in a crisis, such as we now face, to support him as one can in conscience do.

On the other hand, confidence must in some manner be established. Until the Cuban fiasco, the American people generally responded to Kennedy's youth and enthusiasm amiably. The Cuban fiasco came as a shock from which this nation has not yet recovered. Further, it is difficult to understand why, if it is our policy to go the limit in defense of Berlin, did we permit the Russians to build the wall between East and West Berlin. It would seem to be as possible to knock that wall down brick by brick, as it is going up, as to fight a major war over it.

These contradictions require explanation. President Kennedy has faced crisis after crisis since he has come into office. None of these crises were exactly of his making but statesmanship requires a recognition of the continuation of government through Administration after Administration. It does no good to object to the errors of predecessors; that is the function of the historian not of the statesman who goes right ahead accepting what he finds no matter who is responsible. When one writes historically, he must determine how much mischief was done by Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt. But politically, it is only possible to deal with today and tomorrow.

This then is the tough and trying task of President Kennedy. His judgment must be immediately right. His advisers need to be men of impeccable wisdom and patriotism. We are in a war crisis which calls for great minds and courageous spirits.

ONE-ARMED BAND-AID—The game must go on, and the band has its job to do, too. Even a broken arm can't stop this Williamsport, Pa., high school trumpeter, Gary Kinney. He broke his arm playing sandlot football.

Squeakless Rocker To Be Given Kennedy

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A squeakless rocking chair and a tradition-laden ceremony will welcome President Kennedy to Seattle Thursday.

Shortly before Kennedy addresses the academic centennial convocation of the University of Washington a century-old bell will toll 10 times, once for each decade of the school's history.

Thus will Washington, the oldest state-supported institution of higher learning on the Pacific Coast, observe its 100th anniversary.

The White House has announced that Kennedy's speech will be devoted to foreign policy. About 11,000 persons, mostly faculty and students, are expected to jam Edmundson Athletic Pavilion for the convocation.

Thursday night, Kennedy will speak at a $100-a-plate dinner marking the 25th anniversary in Congress of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash. Among the diners will be Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Kennedy will spend the night in the Olympic Hotel. When he gets there he'll find a squeakless rocker, carted from Spokane.

Bazaars Are Markets, Fund Raisers; Gals Who Hold Them Know Their Stuff

READY FOR GUILD BAZAAR — These three Guild members display articles which will be available at Friday's General Guild Bazaar. Mrs. Hillis Hall, on the left, holds a huge decorative candle. Mrs. Richard Hansen (center) shows plastic kitchenware and Mrs. Heckert fits a baby bib on Beth Harcourt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Harcourt. The Bazaar is scheduled Friday at 104 E. Main St. Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Hansen are members of Guild 20 and Mrs. Heckert Guild 27. (Staff Photo)

MORE GUILD BAZAAR PRODUCTS — Mrs. Donald Rose, Mrs. Ralph Diltz and Mrs. Richard Hansen, from left to right, show some of the attractive articles which will be stocked for the annual General Guild Bazaar here Friday. Mrs. Rose displays plastic kitchenware and Mrs. Diltz and Mrs. Hansen large candles. The ladies are wearing becoming aprons which will be available.

By MARY LOUISE BEERY
According to Webster, a "bazaar" is a "market place". To Berger Hospital Guild members in Pickaway County, the word has many meanings, but they would all agree that a bazaar means a joint effort to raise money.

The long and exotic history of bazaars shows they began as market places like those in the Arabian Nights.

As focal points in community life, they have been centers for both financial gain and social pleasure, and in that sense, the modern day bazaar is much like those of the Twelfth Century.

The holiday spirit of any fair, the excitement of buying and selling, the color and beauty of exhibits, and the contagious good spirits of patrons and workers combine to give pleasure to customers and profits to the sponsors.

So when women work for their guilds, it's natural to find them singing and cooking and sewing, cleaning or decorating a room, entertaining guests, giving thoughtful remembrances, making flowers grow and arranging them artistically, just as they do at home but on a larger scale.

Organizing programs and service projects for her guild and community comes as easily to the well-organized housekeeper as scheduling home activities or planning a party for the youngsters.

So nothing is quite so successful as a successful bazaar. What makes it so? A lot of hard work. Who knows better than Berger Hospital Guild members who are busy completing their wares for this year's General Guild Bazaar. The bazaar will be held from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., Friday, Nov. 17, at 104 E. Main St.

Co-chairmen for the bazaar are Mrs. David Yates and Mrs. George Young. Committee members are Mrs. Carl Benhase, Mrs. Carl Bach, Mrs. William Blanton, Mrs. John Griffith and Mrs. Hewitt Harcourt.

The first Berger Hospital Guild was organized in 1946 by the Medical Society Auxiliary with Mrs. E. S. Shane as president. By January, 1950, ten other guilds had been formed.

The General Guild did not form until April, 1950 with a total of 24 guilds and 100 members. Executive Board of the first General Guild were Mrs. E. S. Shane, president; Mrs. Martin Cromley, first vice-president; Mrs. Robert Adkins, second vice-president; Mrs. Harold Bowers, recording secretary; Mrs. William Deffenbaugh, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Phil Smith, treasurer.

During the first year of the organization, the guild performed services and contributed materials in excess of $2,000 to Berger Hospital.

The first General Guild Bazaar was held in 1953. Since that time, the bazaars have provided over $12,000 for the hospital.

At present, there are 28 guilds with a membership of 410.

The executive board is: Mrs. Truman Eberly, president; Mrs. Victor Rogers, first vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Luna, second vice-president; Mrs. Paul Porter, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles DeNeef, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Burl Wiggins, treasurer; and Mrs. Allen Thornton and Miss Dehl Renick, members at large.

The Bazaar is the chief money making project of the Guilds and the proceeds will be turned over to Berger Hospital for supplies and equipment. The guilds really show originality and ingenuity when it comes to choosing a theme. One bright idea can set the pace for a successful project and uncover dozens of hidden talents and skills.

For example, the central food booth planned by Guild members and their chairmen: Guild No. 3, Mrs. Ervin Leist; Guild No. 7, Mrs. Russell Pitt; Guild No. 11, Mrs. Eleanor Snyder; Guild No. 21, Mrs. Willis Liston; Guild No. 22, Mrs. D. E. McDonald; Guild No. 28, Mrs. E. J. Stucker; and Guild No. 30, Mrs. Glenn Kerns.

More goodies will be available—such as gingerbread boy cookies—at the Guild No. 1 booth managed by Mrs. Jasper Hedges; and the snack bar of Guild No. 36 managed by Mrs. Wes Edstrom Jr. More cookies and various salads will be offered at the booth managed by Mrs. Fairy Alkire for Guild No. 29.

All these add up to an impossible number of calories. But who cares? One can always diet after the holidays.

Troubled with the thought of what to buy for Christmas? Try the booth of Guild No. 41 managed by Mrs. Joseph Thomas; there, mother-daughter cobbler aprons, Christmas gift boxes, and a nylon Christmas tree will be on display. Guild No. 31 has planned a booth, managed by Mrs. Charles Thompson, that contains corduroy card table covers, bean bags with books, styrofoam decorations and holders for crinolines. Guild No. 27 has mittens, bibs, children's pillows, ornaments, and a wall hanging.

The gals of Guild No. 2 have planned a booth, managed by Mrs. Phil E. Smith, that will offer dolls in bassinets and Christmas cards. Tub pups and colored pine cones will decorate the booth of Guild No. 19 managed by Mrs. Carl Benhase. Mrs. Donald Rose will manage the booth planned by Guild No. 20 which will contain terry cloth items, tupperware and candles. Guild No. 38 will have a booth, managed by Mrs. Merle Turner Jr., which will offer doll clothes, and a transistor radio. Mrs. Robert Ransom will manage the booth for Guild No. 39 which will contain used books, calorie charts and small Christmas decorations.

This only goes to show that the Guild gals have been busy for months to complete items for the home, family and gift-giving.

For fun for themselves and funds for the hospital, women around here have learned that nothing beats a bazaar.

When you are freezing unbaked drop cookie dough, drop the mixture as usual on a cookie sheet and freeze. When the dough has frozen, remove from the cookie sheet and sheets of waxed paper in a small container.

Junior Women's Club Urges Community Use of Seat Belts

Community-wide participation in the Circleville Junior Women's Club's "Crusade for Seat Belts" has been requested by Mrs. Robert Christy, public affairs chairman.

"Far too few of us are taking advantage of this proven lifesaving device due, in part, to lack of full understanding of the needs and benefits to be gained through regular seat belt use," Mrs. Christy said at the November meeting.

"For example, more than half of all injury-producing automobile accidents occur at speeds less than 40 miles per hour. And, three out of every four traffic deaths occur within 25 miles of home. This means that we, in our everyday driving, could be involved in an accident-producing situation," she stated.

Mrs. Christy noted that research in auto crash injury cases has shown that seat belts help protect automobile passengers in both major and minor accidents. In collisions, seat belts help keep passengers from being ejected, and reduce the force of impact of the body on any part of the car's interior.

"Each of us should extend every human effort to protect ourselves, our families, and our community. None of us are immune from traffic accidents. We must take full advantage of all current automobile safety features, and drive with skill and courtesy," she said.

The members of the Circleville Junior Women's Club are distributing special Crusade Cards to encourage increase in the number of seat belt users in our community. The cards point out the following advantages for equipping motor vehicles with seat belts:

Added protection for your family.

Dear Abby...

She Went Him One Better!

DEAR ABBY: My wife has been very much overweight for the past five years. In spite of my efforts she has refused to do anything about it. Several months ago my mother suggested I give her a hard time, call her "baby elephant" and pay a lot of attention to women with nice figures. I did this for about six months without results.

Finally, my wife packed up and left. Now she tells me she wants a divorce so she can marry a man who LIKES fat women. I love her very much and would take her back if she weighed 300. How do I get her back?

BACKFIRED
DEAR BACK: Court her with flowers, telegrams, phone calls and promises. If this doesn't work — ask your mother.

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 and want to know something. This has happened twice to me with two different boys and I am not sure what to do about it. When a boy takes you out and says he has had a great time and promises to call you on a certain day at a certain time and then doesn't call, what should you say to him the next time you see him?

DISAPPOINTED
DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Don't mention his broken promise. He obviously "forgot," didn't care or his immaturity is showing. In any case, he's not worth worrying about.

DEAR ABBY: How can I keep my husband's family from begging practically everything I own? For example, my mother-in-law will say, "I'll be glad when you get a new living room suite so I can have you old one." (I had not mentioned getting a new one.) Also a sister-in-law announced, "When you get through with that purse, don't throw it away. I want it."

I made new drapes for my living room and stored the old ones in a box in my attic, thinking I might use them later for something else. My mother-in-law and two of her daughters jumped on me to get the old drapes. I felt guilty saying I was "keeping them," so I finally gave them up. All the relatives who beg things from me are better off financially than I am. How can I keep them off my back?

Bazaars Are Markets, Fund Raisers; Gals Who Hold Them Know Their Stuff

By MARY LOUISE BEERY
According to Webster, a "bazaar" is a "market place". To Berger Hospital Guild members in Pickaway County, the word has many meanings, but they would all agree that a bazaar means a joint effort to raise money.

The long and exotic history of bazaars shows they began as market places like those in the Arabian Nights.

As focal points in community life, they have been centers for both financial gain and social pleasure, and in that sense, the modern day bazaar is much like those of the Twelfth Century.

The holiday spirit of any fair, the excitement of buying and selling, the color and beauty of exhibits, and the contagious good spirits of patrons and workers combine to give pleasure to customers and profits to the sponsors.

So when women work for their guilds, it's natural to find them singing and cooking and sewing, cleaning or decorating a room, entertaining guests, giving thoughtful remembrances, making flowers grow and arranging them artistically, just as they do at home but on a larger scale.

Organizing programs and service projects for her guild and community comes as easily to the well-organized housekeeper as scheduling home activities or planning a party for the youngsters.

So nothing is quite so successful as a successful bazaar. What makes it so? A lot of hard work. Who knows better than Berger Hospital Guild members who are busy completing their wares for this year's General Guild Bazaar. The bazaar will be held from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m., Friday, Nov. 17, at 104 E. Main St.

Co-chairmen for the bazaar are Mrs. David Yates and Mrs. George Young. Committee members are Mrs. Carl Benhase, Mrs. Carl Bach, Mrs. William Blanton, Mrs. John Griffith and Mrs. Hewitt Harmon.

The first Berger Hospital Guild was organized in 1946 by the Medical Society Auxiliary with Mrs. E. S. Shane as president. By January, 1950, ten other guilds had been formed.

The General Guild did not form until April, 1950 with a total of 24 guilds and 100 members. Executive Board of the first General Guild were Mrs. E. S. Shane, president; Mrs. Martin Cromley, first vice-president; Mrs. Robert Adkins, second vice-president; Mrs. Harold Bowers, recording secretary; Mrs. William Deffenbaugh, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Phil Smith, treasurer.

During the first year of the organization, the guild performed services and contributed materials in excess of $2,000 to Berger Hospital.

The first General Guild Bazaar was held in 1953. Since that time, the bazaars have provided over $12,000 for the hospital.

At present, there are 28 guilds with a membership of 410.

The executive board is: Mrs. Truman Eberly, president; Mrs. Victor Rogers, first vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Luna, second vice-president; Mrs. Paul Porter, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles DeNeef, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Burl Wiggins, treasurer; and Mrs. Allen Thornton and Miss Dehl Renick, members at large.

The Bazaar is the chief money making project of the Guilds and the proceeds will be turned over to Berger Hospital for supplies and equipment. The gals really show originality and ingenuity when it comes to choosing a theme. One bright idea can set the pace for a successful project and uncover dozens of hidden talents and skills.

For example, the central food booth planned by Guild members and their chairmen: Guild No. 3, Mrs. Ervin Leist; Guild No. 7, Mrs. Russell Pratt; Guild No. 11, Mrs. Eleanor Snyder; Guild No. 21, Mrs. Willis Linton; Guild No. 23, Mrs. D. E. McDonald; Guild No. 28, Mrs. E. J. Stucker; and Guild No. 30, Mrs. Glenn Kerns.

More goodies will be available—such as gingerbread boy cookies—at the Guild No. 1 booth managed by Mrs. Jasper Hedges; and the snack bar of Guild No. 36 managed by Mrs. Wes Edstrom Jr. More cookies and various salads will be offered at the booth managed by Mrs. Fairy Alkire for Guild No. 29.

All these add up to an impossible number of calories. But who cares? One can always diet after the holidays.

Guild No. 27 has mittens, bibs, children's pillows, ornaments, and a wall hanging.

Four Tigers Win SCO Star Berths; Banquet Honors 22

Four Circleville High School football players — three seniors and one junior — were honored last night during the annual South Central Ohio League fall banquet at Washington C. H. Country Club as members of the circuit's 22-man All Star grid squad of 1961.

Named to the select player listing from the co-champion Tigers were captain and center Pat Rooney, Vern Reichmanis, a tackle, Keith Thomerson, another tackle, and junior Garold Dade, 150-pound CHS halfback.

The quartet shared top billing on the star squad with five grid-diggers picked from co-champion Washington C. H. All selections for this year's team were made Sunday by loop coaches, but announcement of the successful candidates was deferred until last night's session.

The five seniors picked from the Blue Lions club are Ed Isham, John Enoch, Jim Kellough, Ernie Herman and Carl Anders. The selections were made for the first time under a system approved after extensive debate at a league meeting in New Holland last spring. Under it, the number of players to be taken from each squad is determined by each team's final position in the championship race.

LAST NIGHT also marked the first time the All Stars had been brought together at the close of a football season to be accorded special league-wide recognition. In previous years the players have simply been notified by school officials of their selection. Head coach Quentin Lanning of Pleasant View, who introduced the All Stars and awarded individual certificates to the players, hailed "the fine gesture made by the SCOL in inviting these boys to a banquet."

Wilmington and Franklin Heights placed three team members apiece on the select outfit. Dwight Wallace, Larry Vanscoy and Ron Nance, all seniors, were picked from the Hurricane eleven. Robin Pendleton, Bob Krukko and Harold Cartright, another trio of twelfth-graders, got the nod to represent Heights.

Seniors Harry Glaze and Phil Stout were named from Hillsboro and Bob Williams and Charles Wallace from Miami Trace's Panthers. Greenfield was represented by George Ford and Ray Smith, both seniors. The only other junior on the double eleven is Ray Palmerton of Pleasant View.

Selection was made this year by naming an offensive and defensive squad without designation by individual playing position. Washington's Ed Isham is honorary captain of the All Stars. Heaviest man on the squad is Circleville's Reichmanis, tipping the scales at a robust 240 while the Receiving Honorable Mention status from the Tigers were Fred Moore, halfback, Dessel (Duke) Fyffe, fullback, Dave Hannahs, quarterback, Ray Taylor, guard, Tom Bivens, guard, John Pharr, end and Clesson Thomas, tackle. Seven players were chosen for mention from each of the eight league schools.

AFTER AN invocation by the Rev. Carl G. Zehner, pastor of the local Trinity Lutheran Church, dinner was served to approximately 200 players, coaches, school officials and news men representing all eight SCOL-affiliated institutions.

Richard Snouffer, CHS principal and chairman of the league governing body, the principals' committee, offered congratulatory remarks to the All Stars, urging them to maintain a high standard of respect and loyalty to their schools. A musical ensemble from Washington High School lightened the evening with several entertaining selections.

Coach Ed Lewis of Franklin Heights received the official league trophy for the 1961 spring baseball championship. His Falcons captured the title on a 5-1 league ledger.

After Lanning distributed certificates to the All Stars, Gordon Larson, head football coach at Akron University, was introduced. Larson told the All Stars the keys to success in a highly competitive society were, "Devotion, discipline and desire."

He noted "What anyone does in his life is largely determined by his ability to bounce back from some failure to achieve success in the long run."

Henry Adios Favored in Messenger

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Henry T. Adios drew post position No. 3 today and was installed a 5-2 favorite for harness racing's richest event, the $145,378 Messenger Stakes Friday night at Roosevelt Raceway.

The colt will compete against eight other 3-year-olds in the rich 1-mile feature, with Stanley Dancer, his driver, Henry T. Adios, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Nicholas Derriero of Pelham Manor, N.Y., has won 15 times and has finished in the money 25 times in 27 starts this year.

Current second choice for the Messenger at 7-2 is Adios Don, to be driven by Bob Camper, who will be the only horse in the second row—post position No. 9 along the rail.

The only filly in the field, Way Wave, and Lang Hanover are rated at 4-1.

Adiosand, who drew the pole position, and Tarport Jimmy are the Del Miller Stable entry and rated at 8-1.

Hogan Hanover is 10-1 and Yankee Express is 12-1. The longest shot of the nine probable starters is High Test at 15-1.

The Messenger, two turns around Roosevelt's half-mile oval, will be worth $72,688 to the winner.

Teays Valley SCO Admission Tabled Again

For the third time in a period of about 15 months the request of Teays Valley Local School District for admission into the South Central Ohio League has received an official cold shoulder.

The Teays Valley District has attempted to gain entrance to the SCOL by formal request during two previous league meetings. During a meeting Sunday of loop officials in Washington C. H., principals of the eight member schools voted to defer the Teays Valley application until the spring general meeting March 1.

Circleville High School principal Richard Snouffer, chairman of the league's governing board, pointed out today the Teays Valley admission question balances on several unresolved factors of league operation.

Most members agree anything larger than the current eight-team setup would prove unwieldy. Rumors have persisted for almost two years that one, and possibly two, present members seek affiliation in another circuit.

"IT WOULD have to be a case of a school leaving the SCOL and Teays Valley replacing that school, not of adding to the number of present member schools," Snouffer stated.

In a matter which fanned some heated exchange during both coaches association and principals meetings, a stand that officials must be mutually satisfactory to opposing schools was reaffirmed.

Both the league constitution and a recommendation of the Ohio High School Athletic Association support this. Snouffer noted schools have several opportunities to reject unsuitable officials before committing themselves to a game contract. Lists of prospective officials may be distributed among the schools and coaches to aid this stand.

Coaches and principals will meet next on March 20 while a spring banquet is slated for the following night, both in Washington C. H. The league track meet was set definitely for May 9 at Franklin Heights.

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy McDonald, the fleet flanker back of the Philadelphia Eagles, rates Erich Barnes of the New York Giants the best defensive back he has met this year.

Texas Retains Top U.S. Rank

Alabama Is Second With OSU Third

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Texas remained the No. 1 college football team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press football poll and in the process won over another half-dozen panelists.

Last week the Longhorns, now 8-0 and rushing toward the host spot in the Cotton Bowl, collected 35 first-place votes. This week, 41 members of the nationwide group of 47 sports writers and sportscasters placed them on top.

Alabama, also 8-0, continued a strong second, followed by Ohio State, 6-0-1, Louisiana State, 7-1, and Minnesota, 6-1. That's just how the top five looked a week ago.

Texas finished with 463 points on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second and so on. Alabama had 401 and Ohio State 365. Alabama, which had six first-place votes a week ago, had three this time.

Georgia Tech and Missouri tumbled out of the top 10, while Purdue and Syracuse jumped into the select circle.

One unusual aspect of the poll this week was that two losers, Michigan State and Colorado, both hung on in the top 10. Usually, when a team loses it nose-dives right into the also-rans.

The top teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

- 1. Texas (41) 463

The figures back up McDonald. With the 26-year-old former Purdue star shadowing him at every move, McDonald caught only three passes for 26 yards against the Giants in their National Football League game Sunday, won by New York 38-21. In eight previous games, he caught 40 for 628 yards, an average of 15.6 yards.

"The way the Giants played against us they would have beaten any team in the country," McDonald said at the New York Football Writers luncheon. "This Giant club is five times better than last year's team. More offensive punch and that same old defense."

"Barnes did a job on me but I dropped four passes. It was my fault. I have no excuses. There is nobody to blame but myself. This time we are going home with our head between our legs. But we play them again (Dec. 10) in Philadelphia."

The battered Giants were gathering themselves for another big effort Sunday against a Pittsburgh team that always rises to the heights against New York.

Word from the hospital ward was that defensive backs Dick

Nolan and Billy Stits, both out of action due to dislocated shoulders will be lost for two or three weeks. Jack Stroud, a bulwark on the offensive line at guard, also will miss the next two or three games due to a recurrence of an old injury to his right knee.

With Nolan and Stits out, the Giants are down to four defensive backs for the Steelers. Allan Webb, who normally specializes in running back kicks, took over Sunday against the Eagles in the safety spot. With only five more games to play, the Giants now head into the rugged part of their schedule. After Sunday's home game with Pittsburgh, they go on the road to play Cleveland, Green Bay and Philadelphia before ending the regular season at home against Cleveland, Dec. 17.

Niles Presses Massillon for No. 1 Rating

Ohio Defending King's Point Margin Fades In State Balloting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Massillon and Niles McKinley were engaged today in a two-team race for Ohio's high school football championship.

The title, and winner of the Rutgers Hall of Fame trophy, will be decided in next week's Associated Press poll of sports writers.

Massillon, defending king and nine-time poll winner, clung to the top spot it has held all year as 54 writers voted today. But the Tigers' margin had dwindled to almost nothing as the Red Dragons put up their biggest challenge of the campaign. Niles finished second in the 1960 ratings.

A week ago Massillon had 29 first-place votes and 429 poll points to Niles' two top nods and 330 points. The sentiment shift today found Niles with 21½ place ballots to Massillon's 13½, but the Tigers were on top in poll points on the 10-9-8-etc. basis, 440 ½ to 411½.

The half votes were the result of one editor putting both challengers in the top spot and omitting second place from his ballot.

Massillon has one game to go — the annual classic with Canton McKinley next Saturday afternoon in Canton's Fawcett Stadium. The Tigers must win it handily to stay atop the poll, today's returns indicate.

Alliance's loss pushed the Aviators from third to eighth place in the ratings. Middletown, fifth last week, skidded to 10th. Bellevue climbed to third.

Shown are the first-place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the scoring records of the leaders.

Oklahoma Geared For Army Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Has Oklahoma turned the corner from failure to success as the 1961 college football season nears its close?

Those who've seen the Sooners win their last two games, after losing the first five, think so, particularly after a crisp 7-0 victory last Saturday over heavily favored Missouri.

"You can definitely say that Oklahoma is on the way back," Army scout Bill Rowe said today. He has seen the Sooners play four times—two won and two lost—in preparation for Army's game at New York's Yankee Stadium against the Sooners this Saturday.

Those close to the Oklahoma scene feel that the NCAA probation imposed in 1960 hurt the recruiting program.

"Bud Wilkinson has done the best coaching job of his life this year because he's had to," OU publicist Harold Keith told the New York Football Writers Monday. "He's been forced to use kids who last year couldn't make the traveling squad, or just were not good enough to win a letter. And he's had to use them against opposition as fine as we've ever had in the Big Eight Conference."

Wilkinson has also been plagued by injury problems, and when these diminished, along with the emergence of Bob Page as a take-charge quarterback, his fortunes began to turn for the best.

Against Army this week, he is expected to have tackle Bill White off the injury list. White is considered OU's best player.

The Cadets will be without No. 1 quarterback Dick Eckert, who re-injured an ankle last Saturday against William & Mary.

The game also will be telecast (ABC) regionally.

Minnesota, hot on the trail for a repeat of its 1960 national championship, will have halfback Jim Cairns off the injury list for this week's Big Ten game against Purdue. Coach Darrell Royal of the top-ranked Texas Longhorns said he still didn't expect fullback Ray Poage to be ready for this week's game against Texas Christian.

Notre Dame, which meets Syracuse this week, may not have tackle Roger Wilke and fullback Dick Naab because of injuries but end Jim Kelly, out for the last two games, is expected to be ready. Orange center Bob Stem is in the questionable category.

Quarterback Bill Mrukowski and end Chuck Bryant of Ohio State were expected to be ready for the game against Oregon. Columbia, which can gain at least a share of the Ivy League title by beating Penn this week, is expected to have fullback Tom O'Connor in the lineup.

Jack Fadden is the trainer for the Boston Red Sox and Harvard University football team.

PEEL, MAN. PEEL—He may be some shakes on the mound for the Cleveland Indians but right now Jim (Mudcat) Grant is just an old potato peeler at Fort Belvoir, Va., where he is starting a year's tour of duty after his recall Ray Poage to be ready for this

Oklahoma Geared For Army Clash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Has Oklahoma turned the corner from failure to success as the 1961 college football season nears its close?

Those who've seen the Sooners win their last two games, after losing the first five, think so, particularly after a crisp 7-0 victory last Saturday over heavily favored Missouri.

"You can definitely say that Oklahoma is on the way back," Army scout Bill Rowe said today. He has seen the Sooners play four times—two won and two lost—in preparation for Army's game at New York's Yankee Stadium against the Sooners this Saturday.

Those close to the Oklahoma scene feel that the NCAA probation imposed in 1960 hurt the recruiting program.

"Bud Wilkinson has done the best coaching job of his life this year because he's had to," OU publicist Harold Keith told the New York Football Writers Monday. "He's been forced to use kids who last year couldn't make the traveling squad, or just were not good enough to win a letter. And he's had to use them against opposition as fine as we've ever had in the Big Eight Conference."

Wilkinson has also been plagued by injury problems, and when these diminished, along with the emergence of Bob Page as a take-charge quarterback, his fortunes began to turn for the best. Against Army this week, he is expected to have tackle Bill White off the injury list. White is considered OU's best player.

The Cadets will be without No. 1 quarterback Dick Eckert, who re-injured an ankle last Saturday against William & Mary.

The game also will be telecast (ABC) regionally.

Minnesota, hot on the trail for a repeat of its 1960 national championship, will have halfback Jim Cairns off the injury list for this week's Big Ten game against Purdue. Coach Darrell Royal of the top-ranked Texas Longhorns said he still didn't expect fullback Ray Poage to be ready for this week's game against Texas Christian.

Notre Dame, which meets Syracuse this week, may not have tackle Roger Wilke and fullback Dick Naab because of injuries but end Jim Kelly, out for the last two games, is expected to be ready. Orange center Bob Stem is in the questionable category.

Quarterback Bill Mrukowski and end Chuck Bryant of Ohio State were expected to be ready for the game against Oregon. Columbia, which can gain at least a share of the Ivy League title by beating Penn this week, is expected to have fullback Tom O'Connor in the lineup.

Jack Fadden is the trainer for the Boston Red Sox and Harvard University football team.

PEEL, MAN, PEEL—He may be some shakes on the mound for the Cleveland Indians but right now Jim (Mudcat) Grant is just an old potato peeler at Fort Belvoir, Va., where he is starting a year's tour of duty after his recall by the Army.

Teegardins Set For Chicago Annual Show

C. B. Teegardin and Sons, prominent Ohio breeders of purebred Polled Hereford cattle, will be among many exhibitors at the 1961 International Live Stock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo in Chicago.

The Teegardins have listed entries for a herd of 18 head that are being fitted for the show on their farm near Ashville.

Their entries include the bull, Circleview Lancer, winner of the junior and reserve grand championship in Chicago last year. Among other top wins of the Teegardins at the International show last year was the award of Best Ten Head of the Polled Shorthorn breed.

The Exposition will be held Nov. 24 to Dec. 2 in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards. It will celebrate its 62nd anniversary as the nation's largest livestock exposition and will feature the competitive exhibition of 39 breeds of beef and dairy cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

A WORLD Championship Rodeo will be staged at the 14 Horse Shows scheduled during the 9-day run of the exposition.

Top riders from the West and Southwest ranches will be competing in the finals of the Interstate Cowboy's Association that will be held at the International show this year.

East Germans Erase Name Of Stalin

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany staged a blitz de-Stalinization during the night, renaming East Berlin's showplace boulevard and removing its statue of Stalin and countless other memorials to the late Soviet dictator.

This morning only workmen and debris remained as bulldozers cleared the square where East Berlin's bronze Stalin statue had stood since shortly after World War II.

Stalinalee, the broad, three-mile avenue that is East Berlin's main street, had fresh name signs—Karl Marx Allee—for half its length and Frankfurter Allee for the rest. Frankfurter Allee was the street's name before the Russians occupied East Berlin.

Stalinstadt, a major East German iron and steel town on the Oder River, was renamed Eisenhuettenstadt, or iron foundry town, according to a small front-page announcement in Neues Deutschland, organ of the East German Communist party.

The important Josef W. Stalin plant in Berlin-Treptow was renamed "Electrical Apparatus Works Berlin-Treptow."

The dictator's name-changing was the first concrete sign of de-Stalinization in East Germany since condemnations of the dictator were made public from the Soviet Communist party congress last month and his body was removed from Lenin's tomb in Moscow's Red Square.

Music Leaders Hail Concert By Cellist in White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the second time—in a span of 57 years—the charm of Pablo Casals' cello echoed in the White House.

For the 84-year-old, world-renowned musician, it was another of many triumphs.

Leaders of the music world, included to hear him, viewed the performance as a triumph, too, for President Kennedy who had made the rare performance possible.

The emphasis was on music and a salute to the arts as Casals performed in the glittering East Ballroom after a formal state dinner honoring Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico.

"I thought it was marvelous. I was deeply moved by the entire occasion—not simply by the music of Casals but by the company in which it was played," said composer-conductor Leonard Bernstein.

Bernstein, conductors Leopold Stokowski and Eugene Ormandy and composers Gian Carlo Menotti and Aaron Copland were among the many representatives of the music world included among the 153 distinguished guests the Kennedys invited to the dinner.

Introducing Casals, President Kennedy cited the Spanish-born cellist as a man who has demonstrated in his own life that "an artist must be a free man."

Casals, in a moral protest against the dictatorship of Generalissimo Francisco Franco of Spain, has refused to play in public in any country which recognizes the Franco government. He has made himself an exile from the land of his birth.

Although the United States recognizes Franco, Casals accepted Kennedy's invitation to play a return engagement at the White House where he last performed in 1904, during Theodore Roosevelt's administration.

Roosevelt's daughter, Alice Longworth, who was present at the 1904 concert, attended Monday night.

Casals is a close friend of Governor Munoz Marin and now lives in Puerto Rico.

Harvey said the party left Sandy Point in the Bahamas about 5 p.m. Sunday to return to Fort Lauderdale.

County Board of Education Probe Demanded of State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert A. Manchester of Youngstown, member and former president of the Ohio Board of Education, says county school boards represent "the weak link in the integration of our educational system in Ohio."

Manchester asked the state board Monday to make a "study and inspection" of the state's 88 county boards of education.

State Board President Charlton Myers of Marion asked State School Supt. E. E. Holt to determine how such a study could be made.

Manchester said about $3 million a year in state funds is being used to help finance county school board services and "we have a right to expect certain performance."

In other developments, the board heard objections to its proposed administrator certification requirements.

Chief objection came from eight representatives of the Ohio Association of Public School Employees.

They contended that administrators who are school business managers, architects, and personnel and school-community relations experts should not be required to have classroom teaching experience as part of their qualifications.

The board expects to take final action of the new requirements at its Dec. 11 meeting.

The board served notice of intent to revoke the teaching certificate of Floyd C. Walton, elementary teacher employed by the Tuslaw District near Massillon.

The resolution said a California certificate held by Walton had been revoked and alleged that he "has engaged in intemperate and immoral conduct or other conduct unbecoming to a teacher."

It did not elaborate. A hearing on the matter was set for Jan. 8.

In other actions, Monday the board:

Took first steps to revoke the charter of Bladensburg High School, Knox County, effective June 30, 1962, on grounds of 19 violations of minimum school standards.

Took final action to revoke 10 high school charters, effective next June 30, including those of Martinsville and New Vienna in Clinton County.

Asked the school superintendent for a recommendation on a proposal by Mrs. Fannie D. Stough, vice president of the Mount Victory - Dudley School Board. She suggested consolidating the Mount Victory-Dudley District, the Ridgeway District (both in Hardin County, the Buckeye Local District (Logan County) and the Washington - York District (Union County).

Authorized a board committee to consider proposed criteria for new joint vocational high school districts consisting of several districts or an entire county.

Approved transferring territory from Tuslaw District to Massillon City District, and transferring 55 acres from Youngstown to Campbell.

Indefinitely postponed action on a request for transferring territory from the Union-Scioto District to Chillicothe City District because of a pending countywide school survey in Ross County.

6 Americans Feared Lost As Boat Sinks

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — "It was dark, rough and squally. I saw a child floating in the water with a lifejacket. I pulled it into the lifeboat but the child was dead. I drifted with the body beside me until the tanker picked me up."

That was part of the story told Monday night by the only known survivor of seven Americans aboard a 60-foot yacht which caught fire and sank during a cruise of Bahamian waters.

The survivor, Capt. Julian Harvey, 44, skipper of the ketch Blue Belle, said the vessel went down about 50 miles northwest of Nassau late Sunday night.

After drifting for 14 hours with the body of a 10-year-old girl beside him, Harvey was picked up by the tanker Gulf Lyon and brought to Nassau. He was treated for exposure and shock.

Also aboard and believed lost when the Blue Belle went down were Mary Dene Harvey, 34, wife of the skipper; Arthur Dupersault, about 40, of Green Bay, Wis., his wife and three children, including the girl and two boys aged 8 and 14.

The Blue Belle, owned by Harold S. Pegg of Hollywood, Fla., left Bahia Mar yacht basin in Fort Lauderdale Wednesday.

Harvey said the party left Sandy Point in the Bahamas about 5 p.m. Sunday to return to Fort Lauderdale.
